

Attribute

A name and value pair that can be assigned as an attribute to various objects in the system.

Name	Type	Description	Constraints
name	String	The name of the attribute.	required value	String	The value of the attribute. Note that although provided here as a string, you may need to convert it into a specific type to work with a specific request. If the value is not sent with the expected data type, an error can occur.	required